DISCUSSION/RATIONALE:

This site is the location of fire pits used by Triumph Industries during WWII to dispose of off-spec ammunition. Since the war the site has been part of an agricultural field that has been used for growing crops, mainly corn and soybeans. The site was referred to removal due to the discovery of munitions debris onsite and elevated levels of TNT in one onsite soil sample.

This decision form also serves as an update to site activities. Since the time the site was deferred, the Removal program has begun taking an action to remove munitions of explosive concern from the site. Further characterization and cleanup of the site is also being undertaken by the owner, Herron 393, LLC, under the MDE voluntary cleanup program and so there will be no need for remedial followup by EPA after the removal program has completed their action.
